About SBP

SBP, Inc. (formerly, St. Bernard Project) is an award-winning, innovative nonprofit organization that shrinks the time between disaster and recovery. A leader in volunteer-driven, post-disaster rebuilding; SBP educates, advocates and improves the disaster recovery sector so that we can collectively achieve more for communities. With a team of 50 staff and 180 AmeriCorps members, SBP has rebuilt more than 1,170 homes across 7 states and shared best practices with many more.

SBP's vision is to embrace constant improvement, community-wide collaboration, and clear benchmarks to reduce human suffering caused by the tolls of delay in recovery. By pairing resilience training with recovery operations, we strive to reduce the need for our rebuilding services over time by increasing preparedness among vulnerable communities.

SBP encourages individuals that are hungry for change and eager to innovate to join our team so that we can change the future of disaster recovery together.

Overview

The Director of Human Resources role is a unique opportunity for an individual interested in driving the development of a high-performing culture for a rapidly expanding, national nonprofit. The Director of Human Resources will ensure that SBP invests in our best assets - our people - and embraces constant improvement and innovation to recruit, onboard, train, develop, and support our team. The Director of Human Resources will be a member of the Senior Leadership team and work within this team to make strategic decisions that result in the success of Human Resources functions, the AmeriCorps Program, and the continued growth of the organization.

The Director of Human Resources works with the AmeriCorps Director and Executive Directors at operating sites in other states to deliver strategies to achieve SBP objectives.
