About SBP

SBP, a leading social impact organization focused on disaster resilience and recovery, solves the challenges facing at-risk communities and scales impact with a proven model that brings the rigor of business and innovation to reduce risk, create resilient communities and streamline recovery. By taking this holistic approach, SBP shrinks the time between disaster and recovery in three connected ways—prepare, shape and build:

1. SBP prepares individuals, communities and organizations to mitigate risk and speed recovery.
2. SBP shapes federal policy and system change and state and local disaster recovery programs to be more efficient and effective.
3. SBP builds resilient communities efficiently and effectively and shares our proven model and approach with others.

Position Summary

The Disaster Resilience and Recovery Fellow will collaborate with city government leaders, local regional and national organizations, businesses, associations, and others in order to identify, plan, influence, and generate resources for projects and activities that will improve the resilience of local communities by focusing on delivering actual projects to address local risks. It is essential for the Disaster Resilience and Recovery Fellow to represent the interests of the community throughout the decision-making process to elevate the voices, concerns and needs of traditionally underrepresented citizens via town halls and other public forums to better inform recovery and resilience efforts.

The Disaster Resilience and Recovery fellows will be a pathfinder, a curious connector, and a storyteller who uses their powers to get things done in the communities where they live and work.
